Lobby Interiors

ITALIAN HERITAGE REIMAGINED FOR CONTEMPORARY LIVING

Grand Lobby of Villa del Garda, the furniture collection designed by Massimo Castagna stands as a true heritage masterpiece, celebrating the authentic essence of Riva and its more than 180 years of history. Each element reflects the exceptional craftsmanship that has defined the Sarnico brand since 1842 — from the timeless Dolce Vita spirit of the 1960s to the technological innovation and full-custom approach that shape its contemporary evolution.

Inspired by the world of yachting, the collection brings refined nautical elegance into the heart of the residence, transforming the lobby into an architectural statement of lifestyle, culture, and design. An ode to the sea, to beauty, and to the art of living — this is Exteta x Riva, curated as the defining design experience of Villa del Garda.

Grand lobby - the face of THE RESIDENCE

The Villa del GARDA Grand Lobby is inspired by its proximity to the marina and the refined interiors of iconic Italian yachts, conceived as an elegant extension of life on the water. The space translates a timeless nautical aesthetic into a sophisticated residential setting, where craftsmanship, material integrity, and proportion take precedence over trends.

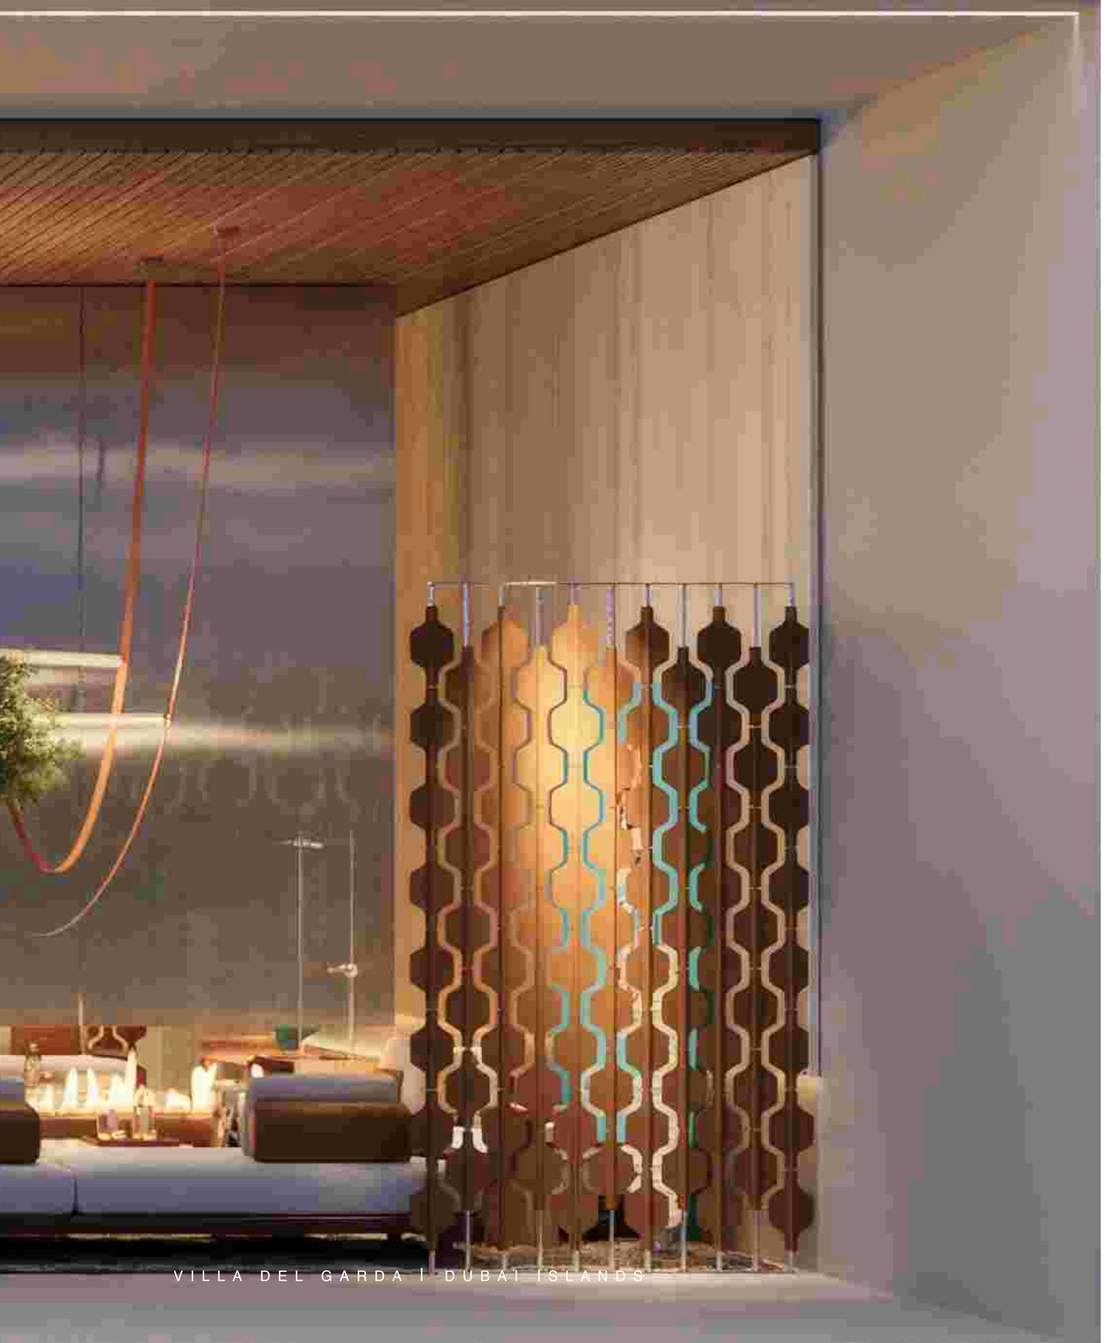

Natural travertine stone and warm teak surfaces define the architectural palette, subtly referencing classic yacht decks and creating a balanced dialogue between maritime character and architectural permanence. This atmosphere is complemented by a carefully curated furniture selection, including pieces designed by Massimo Castagna for Exteta, whose work is widely recognized for its close association with Italian nautical culture and refined outdoor living.

The lobby's furnishing concept is further enriched by seating from Loro Piana Interiors, developed in collaboration with Exteta and Paola Navone, combining sartorial Italian textiles with restrained, timeless design. At the heart of the space, a sculptural centerpiece in polished platinum frames the reception desk and integrates a dedicated barista zone, transforming arrival into a moment of calm sophistication. Above, bespoke glass installations introduce light and movement, completing a setting defined by understated elegance and enduring Italian values.

The ELEMENTS

In the Villa del GARDA lobby, design elements by Enrico Pellizzoni are used as architectural accents. The Ro leather room divider draws inspiration from yacht interiors, evoking oars, marina life, and refined nautical craftsmanship.
Its warm materials and fluid geometry enhance the lobby atmosphere, adding a subtle yachting character and tactile elegance to the space.
